This years Ansbach High School yearbook is dedicated to Ms. Julia Rose Pileggi, the Art teacher here at A.H.S.

Ms. Pileggi was born in Palos Verdes, California, and graduated from the University of Clark Worchester in Massachusetts with a bachelor degree in Art. She did a lot of graduate work at Stanford University, Columbia University, UCLA, New York University, University of Washington, University of Maryland, and taught at the Wiesbaden American High School in Germany.

Ms. Pileggi has been teaching at Ansbach High School ever since it first opened, and this is her 15th Anniversary here.

Ms. Pileggi's teachings in art have been associated with DODDS schools for many years. She also taught in France for three years.

Ms. Pileggi has been involved with many art exhibitions, and art groups over the years, and is the chairperson of a group called the Personal Development Department. She has received outstanding performance ratings several times, and numerous letters of appreciation concerning her artwork with a group, Arts and Humanities.

Congratulations Ms. Pileggi, we the students of Ansbach High School dedicate the 1988 DODDS yearbook to YOU!

Administration

The 1987-88 school year has brought a number of new faces: teachers as well as students. We are proud to say that we have worked hard to offer students a wider variety of classes to choose from.

I feel very fortunate to return to such a wonderful school. I would also like to thank the teachers and students for making this year such a success.

Thank You,

Cliff Gray
Principal

The 1987/88 school year has come to a successful close. For many of you it means a summer time with family and friends, and an eventual return to school next fall. For others it is farewell and a return to the United States. For our Seniors, it signifies graduation and full membership into the adult community with all its responsibilities that embark upon life's great adventures.

Whatever course your life may take, it is my sincere hope that you will look back upon your time spent in Ansbach High School, as having prepared you to meet and deal successfully with the challenges that life will present. It is my sincere wish that each of you will continue to challenge yourself by setting worthy goals in the pursuit of your higher education and/or career. To take charge of yourself at all times and to be the "Very Best that you can be" leading a good and productive life as citizens or leaders of our nation.

My very best wishes to you all!

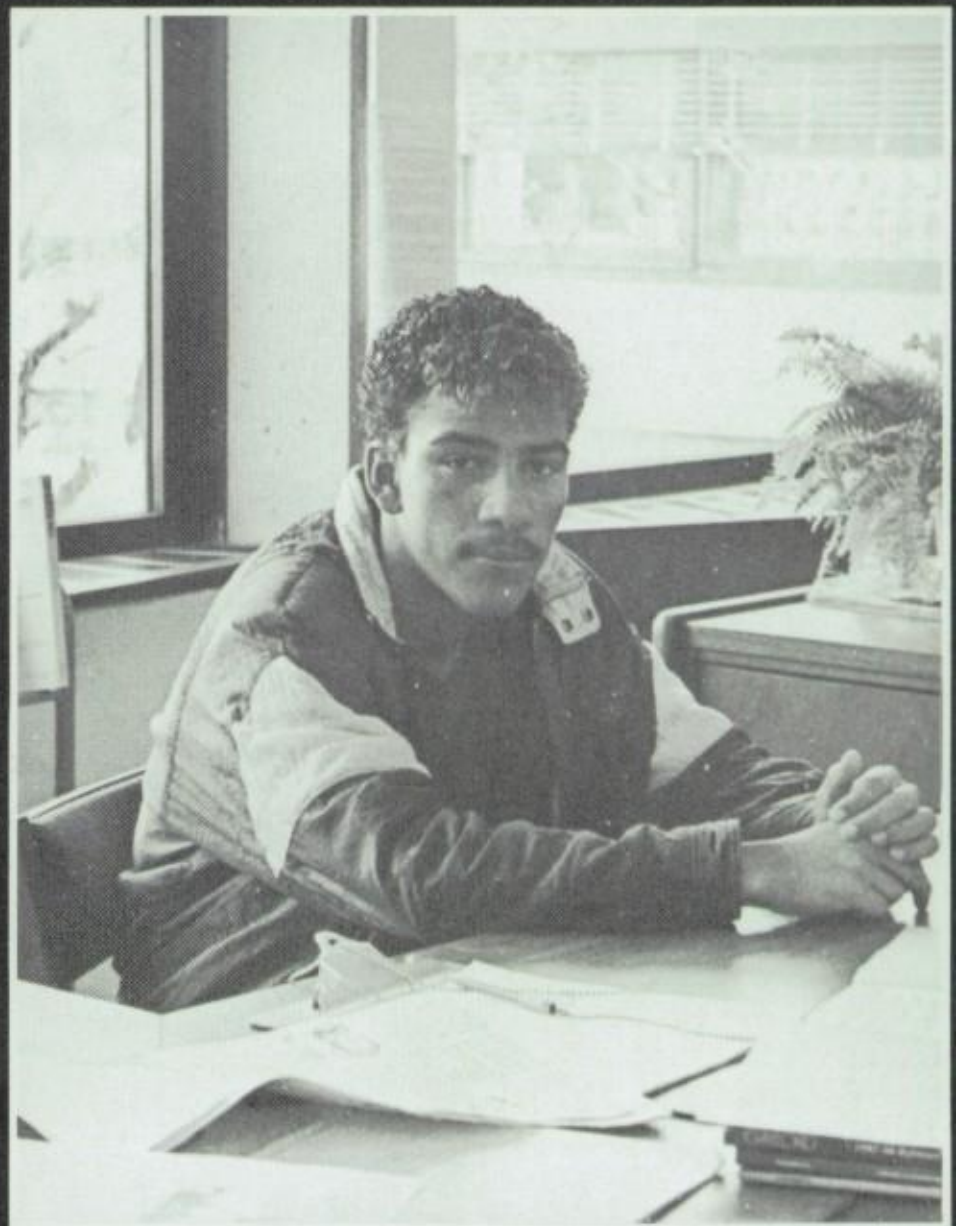

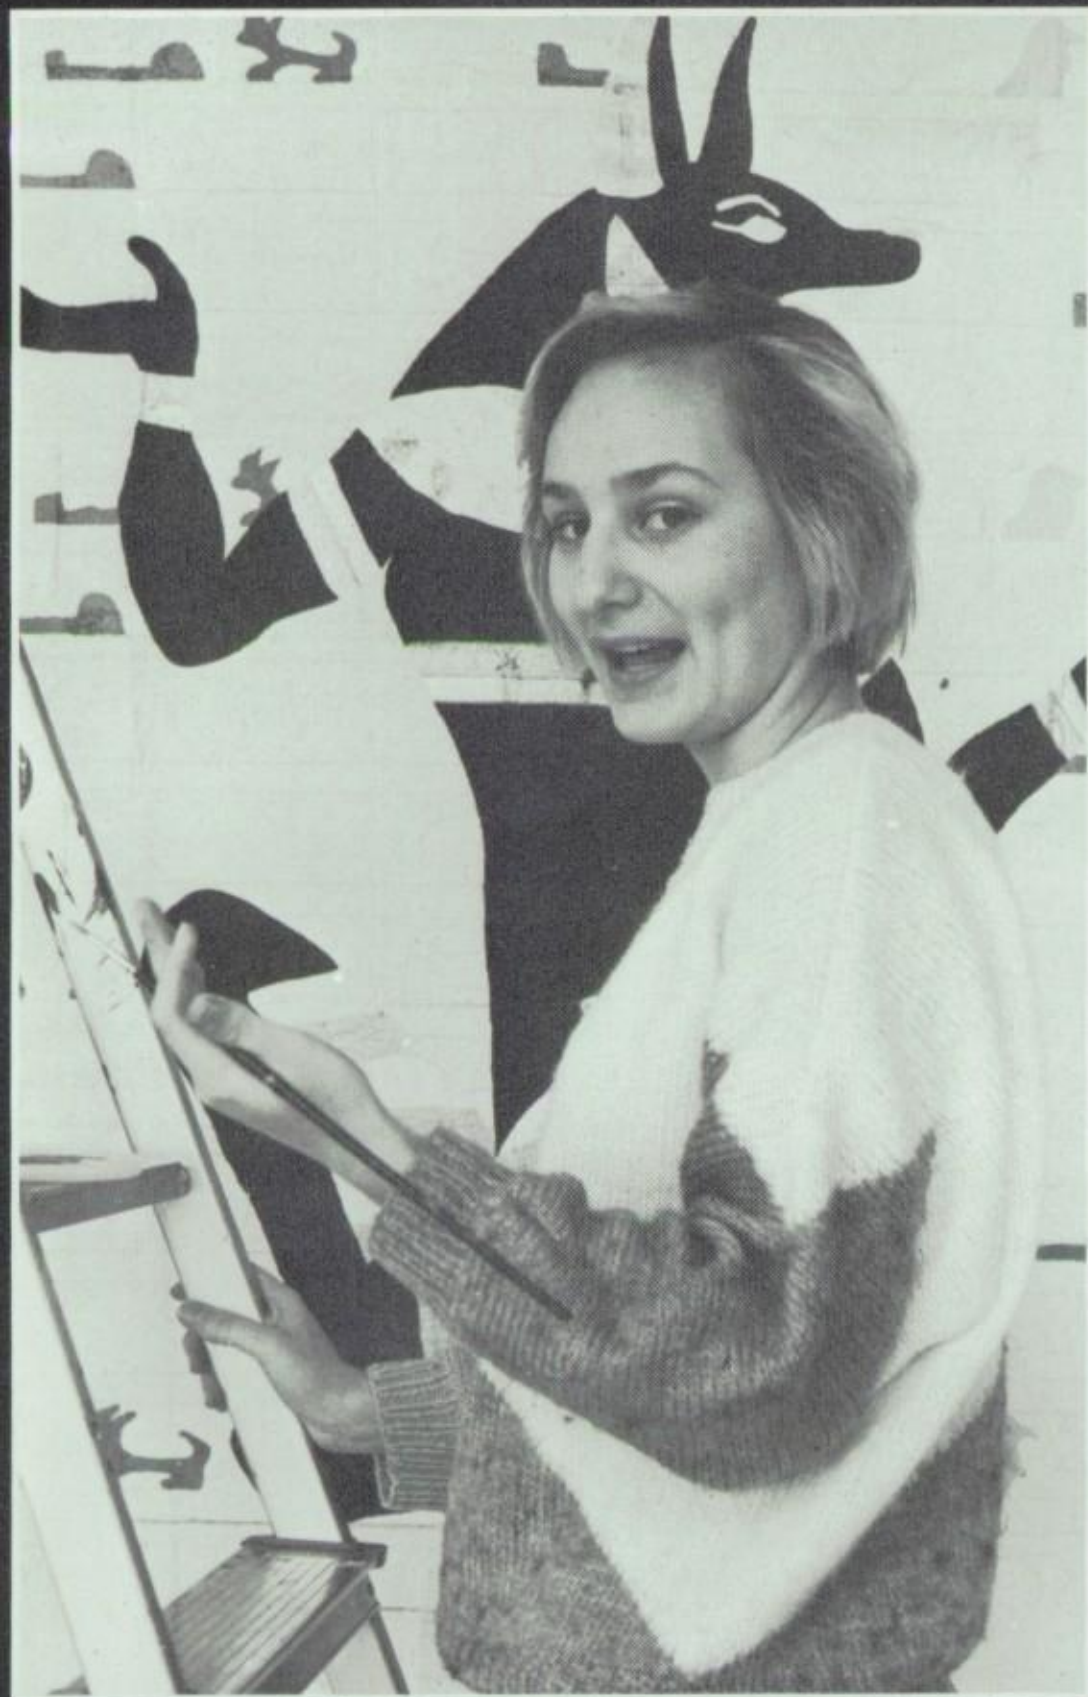

Thomas Murdock
Vice-Principal

Challenge, laughter, wonder
Reflections of today
The promise of tomorrow.

Personalities are like colors of spectrum. The uniqueness of a personality is complemented when viewed with other personalities, just as color is made vivid when contrasted with other colors. Interacting personalities create spirit in a high school as blending colors create life in a painting.

Ansbach High School is rich with diverse personalities: enthusiastic extroverts, serious "intellectuals," creative artists and musicians, aggressive athletes, class clowns, and well-rounded achievers. The intermixing of these personalities produces our schools identity.

Faces In The

Nicole Burkhardt
Homestate: Ohio

Nicole really misses the shopping, her friends, driving and being able to go just about anywhere whenever she wanted. But she says that she really enjoys the traveling in Germany.

When I asked her what she liked about the school she replied "The closeness of the people, and you get to know everyone."

Nicole also said that the shopping area in Ansbach was very quaint.

Nicole said in the next ten years to come she wants to be married without children, and making lots of money.

Angie Dyer
Homestate: California

When I asked what she liked about Ansbach and Germany she said, "I like the clothes and I enjoy the traveling but I'd rather be in the states."

Angie said "I like the people, and this school has alot more activities than the states."

Angie said she really missed her friends and family, and of course the malls, weather and the beaches.

In the ten years to come Angie hopes to become the best lawyer that she can be.

Crowd . . .

Brooke Baker
Homestate: Alabama

Brooke really likes Ansbach she says "It's not too big and it's not too small." She also said that she feels privileged to live in Germany because a lot of other people will never have that chance.

When asked about Ansbach High she replied, "I wish there were more activities for seventh graders. I thought the upperclassmen were going to be mean but they're very nice."

Brooks says that she really misses the states, mostly the shopping malls.

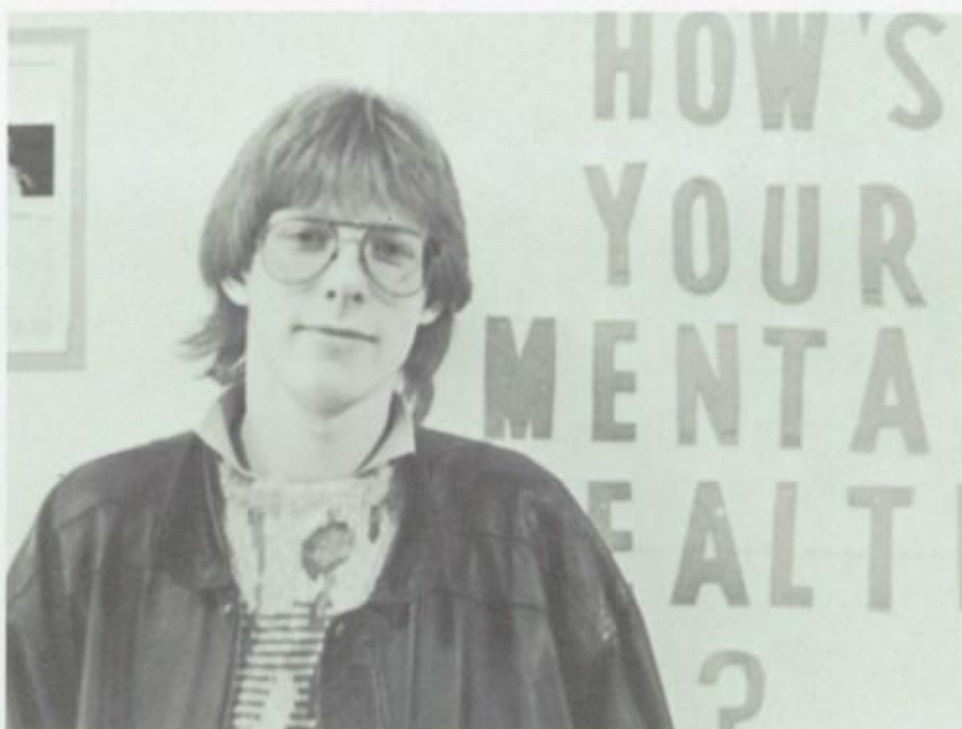

Brooke hopes to be at KU getting her PHD, in the next ten years.

ONOLIDA staff member Tina Griffin interviewed four Ansbach High students to get their feelings on going to school in Europe.

Students numbers were choosen at random, and matched with names. They were asked specific questions derived from the yearbook staff. The questions were particularly about the city of Ansbach and Germany as a whole.

Different views on Ansbach and Germany were obvious. Everyone seemed to share the feeling of missing the States. Each of the students chose a different job, but all of the jobs seemed to have a high income. Most important, they all enjoyed going to Ansbach American High School.

Mike Drummond
Homestate: Virginia

When asked what he liked about Ansbach, Mike replied, "It's okay, it's not the greatest but it's not the worst either."

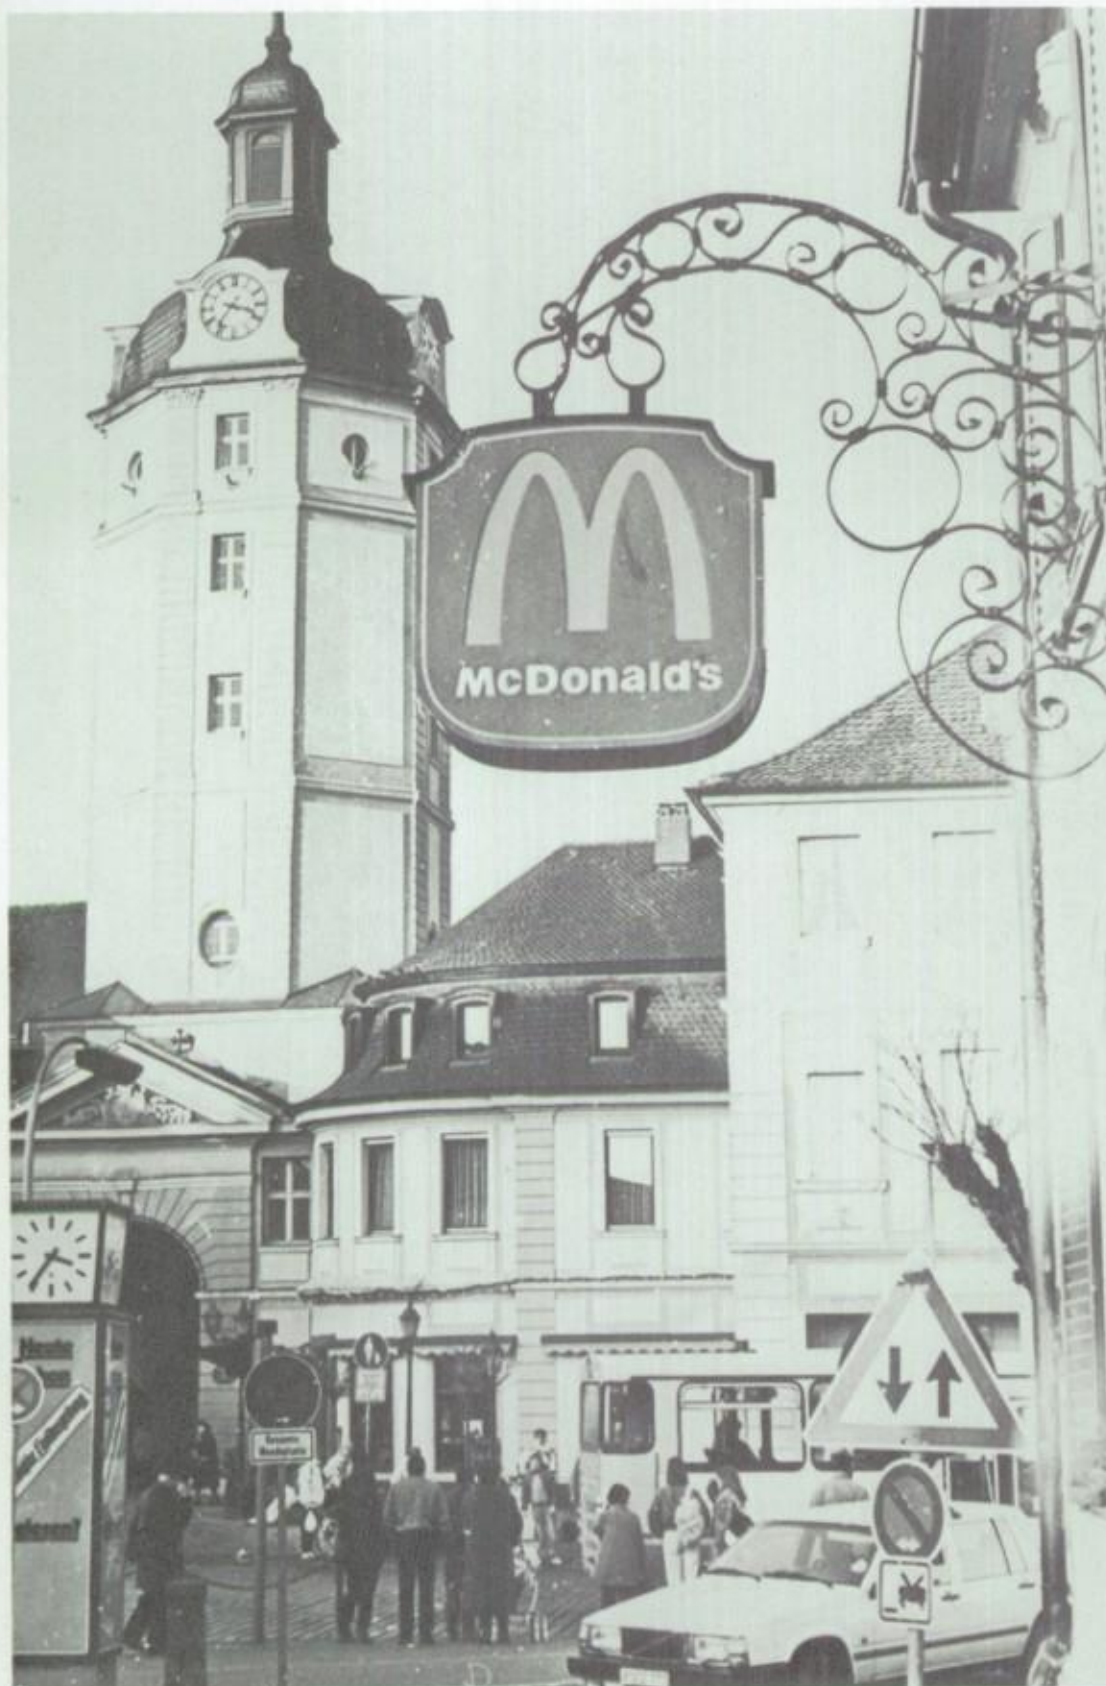

Mike said that he liked Germany as a whole because "people are more friendly, and I've got more freedom than others because I can speak the language."

Mikes likes school because "It's small and you get to know everyone in the school, but I definitely miss the weather."

When I asked Mike what he thought he would be doing in the next ten years, he replied, "That's a hard question, but I guess I would say that I'd like to be an accountant."

Ansbach, the former residence of the Margraves of Brandenburg-Ansbach, has preserved the beauty of its brilliant past. More than 1200 years formed the image of the capital of Central Frenconia. The Franconia Hohenzollerns adorned the town with many fine buildings.

Ansbach can be called a beautiful baroque residence. There is the castle with its 27 state rooms of the 18th century. You will find the baroque Orangery and the Hofgarten (park) with its lime-tree-alleys and magical ballrooms. There is also the ancient city with the medieval churches of St. Gumbertus and St. Johannis. To-day Ansbach is best known by its "International Bach Festival" which is presented every other year at the end of July.

TO AN ATHLETE DYING YOUNG

*The time you won your town the race
We chaired you through the marketplace;
Man and boy stood cheering by,
And home we brought you shoulder-high.*

*Today, the road all runners come,
Shoulder-high we bring you home,
And set you at your threshold down,
Townsmen of a stiller town.*

*Smart lad, to slip bedtimes away
From fields where glory does not stay,
And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.*

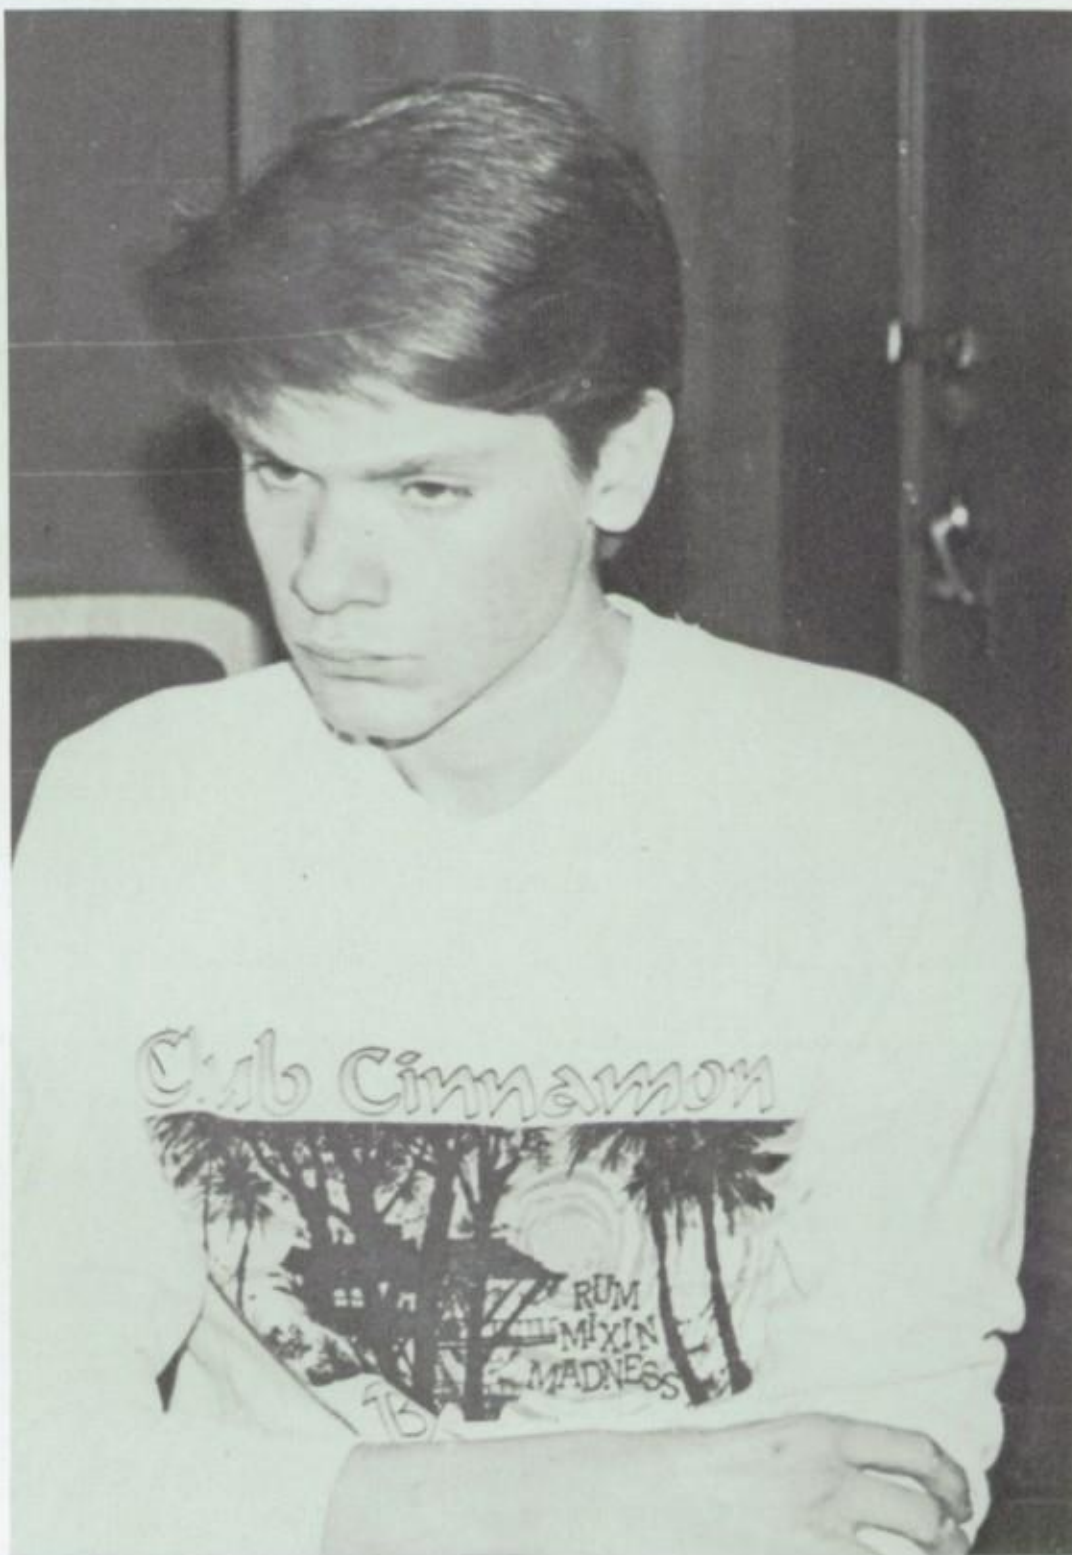

*Eyes the shady night has shut
Cannot see the record cut,
And silence sounds no worse than cheers
After earth has stopped the ears.*

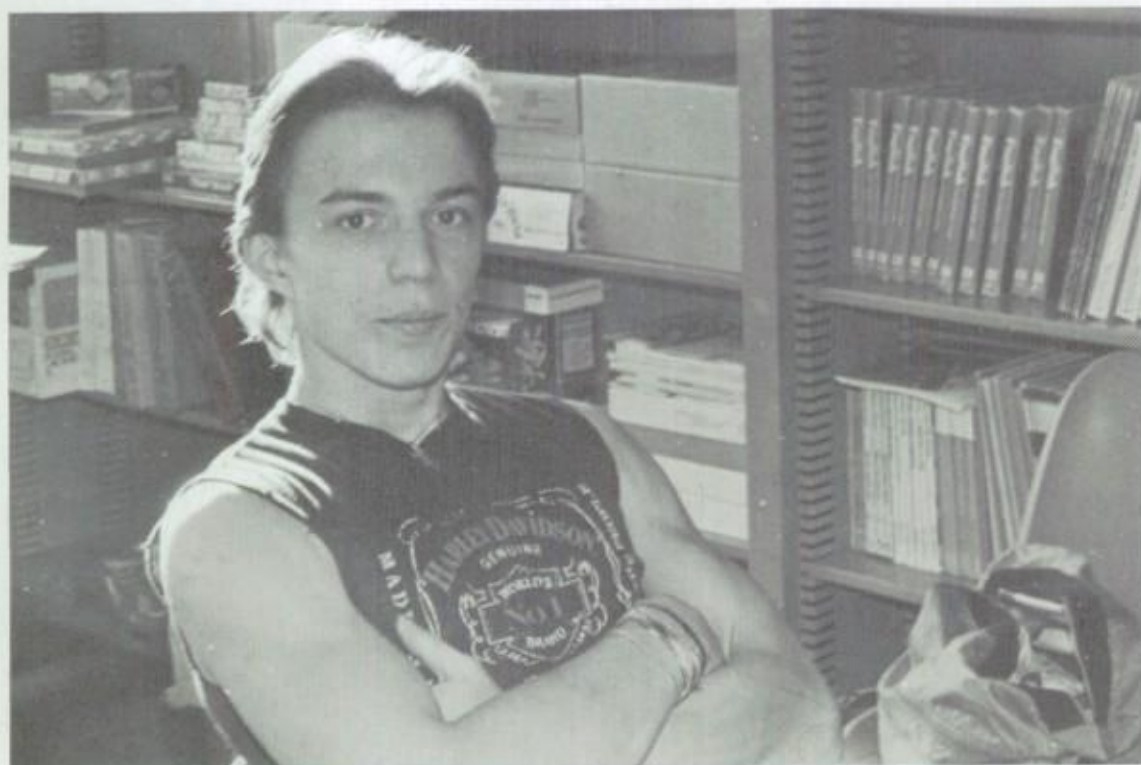

*Now you will not swell the rout
Of lads who wore their honors out,
Runners whom renown outran
And the name died before the man.*

*So set, before its echoes fade,
The fleet foot on the sill of shade,
And hold to the low lintel up
The still-defended challenge cup.*

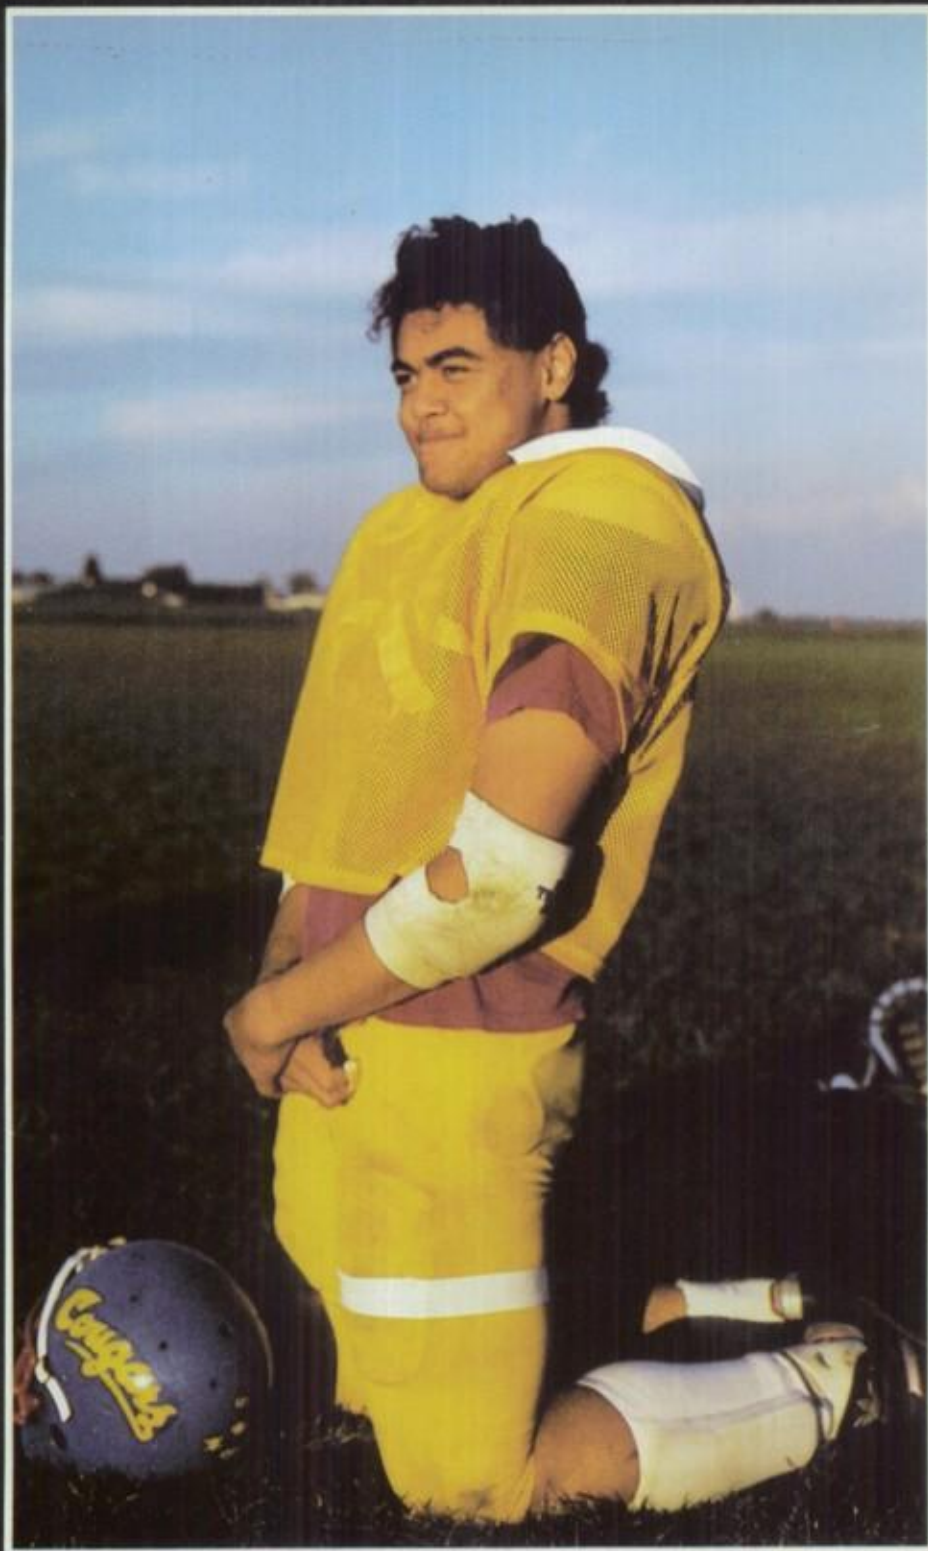

*And round that early-laurled head
Will flock to gaze the strengthless dead,
And find unwithered on its curls
The garland briefer than a girl's.*

Homecoming - Spirit Week 1987

Spirit Week 1987 opened with class as everyone decked themselves out as nerds, beach bums, toga wearers, and farmers. Sport day hit a homerun with outfits ranging from aerobic dancers to football and soccer players. Friday, Blue and Gold day, brought the traditional colorization as school spirit soared with a wave of participation by the students and faculty.

The pep-rally was a success as the senior class won overall for Spirit Week. The juniors once again won the spirit stick in the class competition, while the sophomores won the hallway decorating contest.

Saturdays festivities opened with the kickoff at the Ansbach v. Augsburg contest. Augsburg scored first, but was quickly matched by the offensive Ansbach Cougars. The score was 6-14 when the halftime festivities began.

The parade of princesses began, led by freshman, Stenitta Ross, escorted by Andy McGregor. Scott Johnson escorted Felecia Reynolds, sophomore princess, and Kim Smiles, junior, was escorted by Kevin Shannon. The senior candidates were; Lori Dozark escorted by Tony Wesley, Carmen Rosiere escorted by Mike Wilbur, Missy Hatten escorted by Matt Patel. The King and Queen elected were Donnie Baker and Attalie Bruce.

The Cougars broke out after halftime to close the gap in the score, but with a recalled touchdown, the Cougars final score was 14-20.

A lost game did not yield the students of Ansbach from having a good time, though. The traditional Homecoming Dance, held at Bleidorn Club this year, was a huge success as the Mighty Cougars danced their way into the evening with only memories of Homecoming 1987 to remain.

SPORTS

W r e s t l i n g T e a m

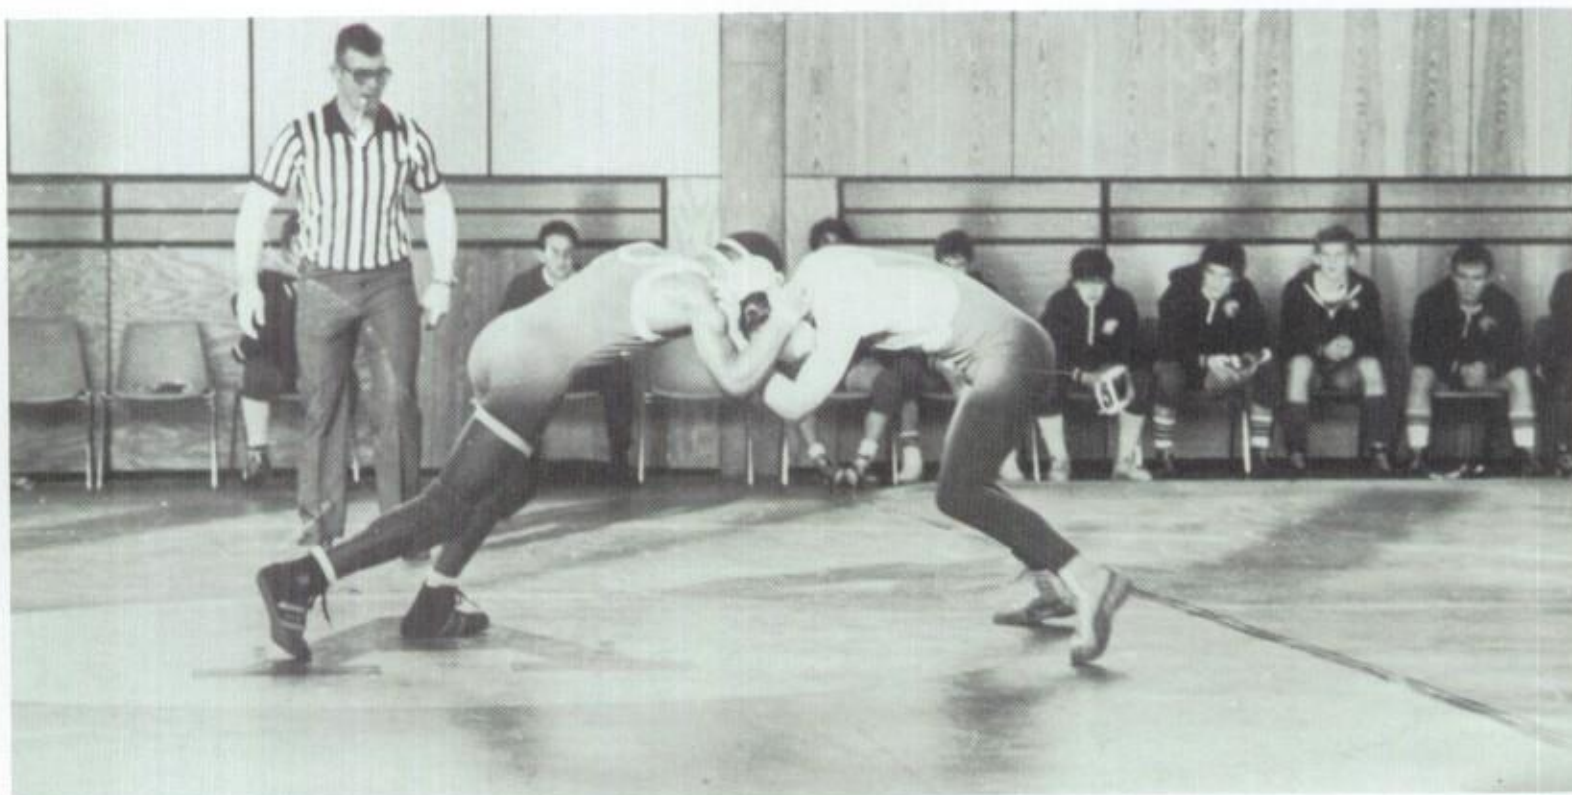

The wrestling team got off to a slow start but progressively got stronger with new members and coaches, Mr. Buccerelli and Mr. Elleman, starting the wrestlers out and teaching them the basics.

The wrestlers individually did great but, because of the team size, were unable to win a meet. The wrestling managers, Tina Griffan and Jennifer Ripley also took a major part in a good season for the wrestlers. At the end of the season Don Charles, Joe Adams, and Shannon Shoemake had advanced to semi-finals and did very well. Congratulations Team!

The 1987 Cougar football season was indeed one for rebuilding. Injuries to new players, and a loss of experienced athletes posed a tough, but not unrealistic task for the coaches.

Mr. McCauley reinforced this though by adding; "The guys tried very hard this year. We played in a very tough conference which makes it difficult for us to advance as far as we would have liked to."

In spite of the season record, the team did the best it could considering the unique situation it was in this year. Ansbach was still able to boast an all-conference player and an honorable mention.

Faatasia Lefotu, All-Conference for his 3rd year in a row, expressed, "I wasn't sure that I would make it this year because of my injury. Mr. McCauley and Coach Ness had confidence in me but I guess I didn't think I could get it on the inside."

Lefotu, who could not play until the 3rd game of the season, not only won All-Conference, but is the only football player from Ansbach to receive it all three years in a row. Lamar Burton, the All-Conference honorable mention said, "I was surprised to receive an honorable mention, I work hard, maybe one will be in my future."

All in all, the mighty Ansbach Cougars ended their season with a 1-6 record, but the satisfaction playing enjoyment, and experience will be with the team members forever.

The Ansbach Lady Cougars Basketball team opened a super season after storming over Berlin 61-32 on Berlin's home court. With only five losses on the Varsity side and four losses on the Junior Varsity side, it was a very successful year. Many people tried out for the team this year with little or no experience, so it took alot of hard work and dedication to get the "family" feeling so many people were accustomed to seeing on and off the court.

Injuries posed a small problem for the 1988 team. Lori Dozark, starting point guard, missed the beginning of the season on account of a broken collar bone. Missy Hatten, starting center, fell out of the action as a result of a serious ankle injury causing her to miss the end of the season.

Even with injuries, the mighty cougars held on strong and made quite a showing at the Hahn Small Schools Basketball Tournaments. After losing to SHAPE 50-55 because of a foul and a technical in the final seconds of the game, the team came back to beat Bamberg and Berlin. Claiming the 5th place recognition for the second year in a row, Coach Ness stated, "Maybe next year. If we stay strong and have alot of returning players, I think we can do it."

Flying high, Maria Armstrong puts up one of her many shots.

Driving in for a basket, Kim Smiles overtakes the Osterholz defense.

Cheerleaders

The Cougar Cheerleaders are an important part of the AHS athletic program. These girls work hard practicing during the summer and cheering during the Football season. Their devoted enthusiasm is displayed at sporting events and pep rallies throughout the season. These dedicated Cougar boosters deserve the appreciation of the students body for their support.

HARRIER: A CROSS COUNTRY RUNNER

AHS was blessed with an abundance of girl harriers for the 1987 season. With only 2 returning runners, the team surpassed every expectation of coach Szemplenski and proved to be quality as well as quantity. Led by Freshmen WENDY PRYPLESH, the girl harriers performed superlatively and added words like win and first place to the team's vocabulary. Their hard work was rewarded when they placed 2nd at the European CC Championships at Giessen, which then qualified them to compete in the European CC Finals in Munich where they placed 4th for small schools. An outstanding season and some fine athletes indeed!

The boys unfortunately were not able to field a full team but that didn't stop them from training and giving their all for AHS and individual honors. They consistently placed in the top 10, proving that though not a team threat, they were tough competitors to try to beat. Next season will be even better!

The runners and coach would like to thank Mr. Alan Guffey for his continued support of the team. Without his humor and assistance it just wouldn't be the same . . . win or lose.

The 1987-88 Volleyball Team did a great job this year. They started their season a little slow, with Vilseck taking a 2-1 victory. Ansbach went to AFCENT and defeated them with a 2-1 victory. Over all the Lady Cougars had a great season with a 13-20 record, and finished 4th in the A-South Championships.

Our Junior Varsity Volleyball Team had a great winning season. They were able to defeat all but 2 teams. Their captain Jackie Gire said there were lots of truly close games, but she was really proud of the way they played. They showed great spirit, good playing, and alot of teamwork.

Above: Sophomore Kendra Peters and Maria Armstrong showed their skills this year and gained All-Conference status. Maria Armstrong also earned All-Tournament status in the A-South Championships.

Tennis

1987

The 1987 Tennis team opened up at home against Berlin with a full team. This was the first year in quite some time that the Cougars have managed to round up both girls and guys teams.

A full team did not set the stage for a faultless season, though. Many of the members of the team were first-year players who wanted to learn the sport. Mr. Snart remembers, "I was very pleased at the size of the team this year. I think it is easier for the guys especially to learn and compete if they believe they have a chance of winning for the day. Unlike the years when they didn't have a chance of winning."

The team as a whole faired better than ever with winning records by junior, Trent Lee (4-3), seniors, Missy Hatten (6-1) and Lori Dozark, Stella Weart, and Tanya Snart.

Heather Langford, a junior, replied, "I had a good time this year with tennis, it was very fun, and I learned alot about the sport. Mr. Snart tried very hard to help us excel. We all tried very hard and had alot of fun with our own team and the teams from other schools."

Finals were held again in Wiesbaden this year. Donnie Baker and Danny Bush represented Ansbach as the guys' doubles team and Lori Dozark and Tanya Snart for the girls'. Missy Hatten and Trent Lee played singles for Ansbach, with Trent claiming the Consolation Round by netting 6th place overall for the tournament.

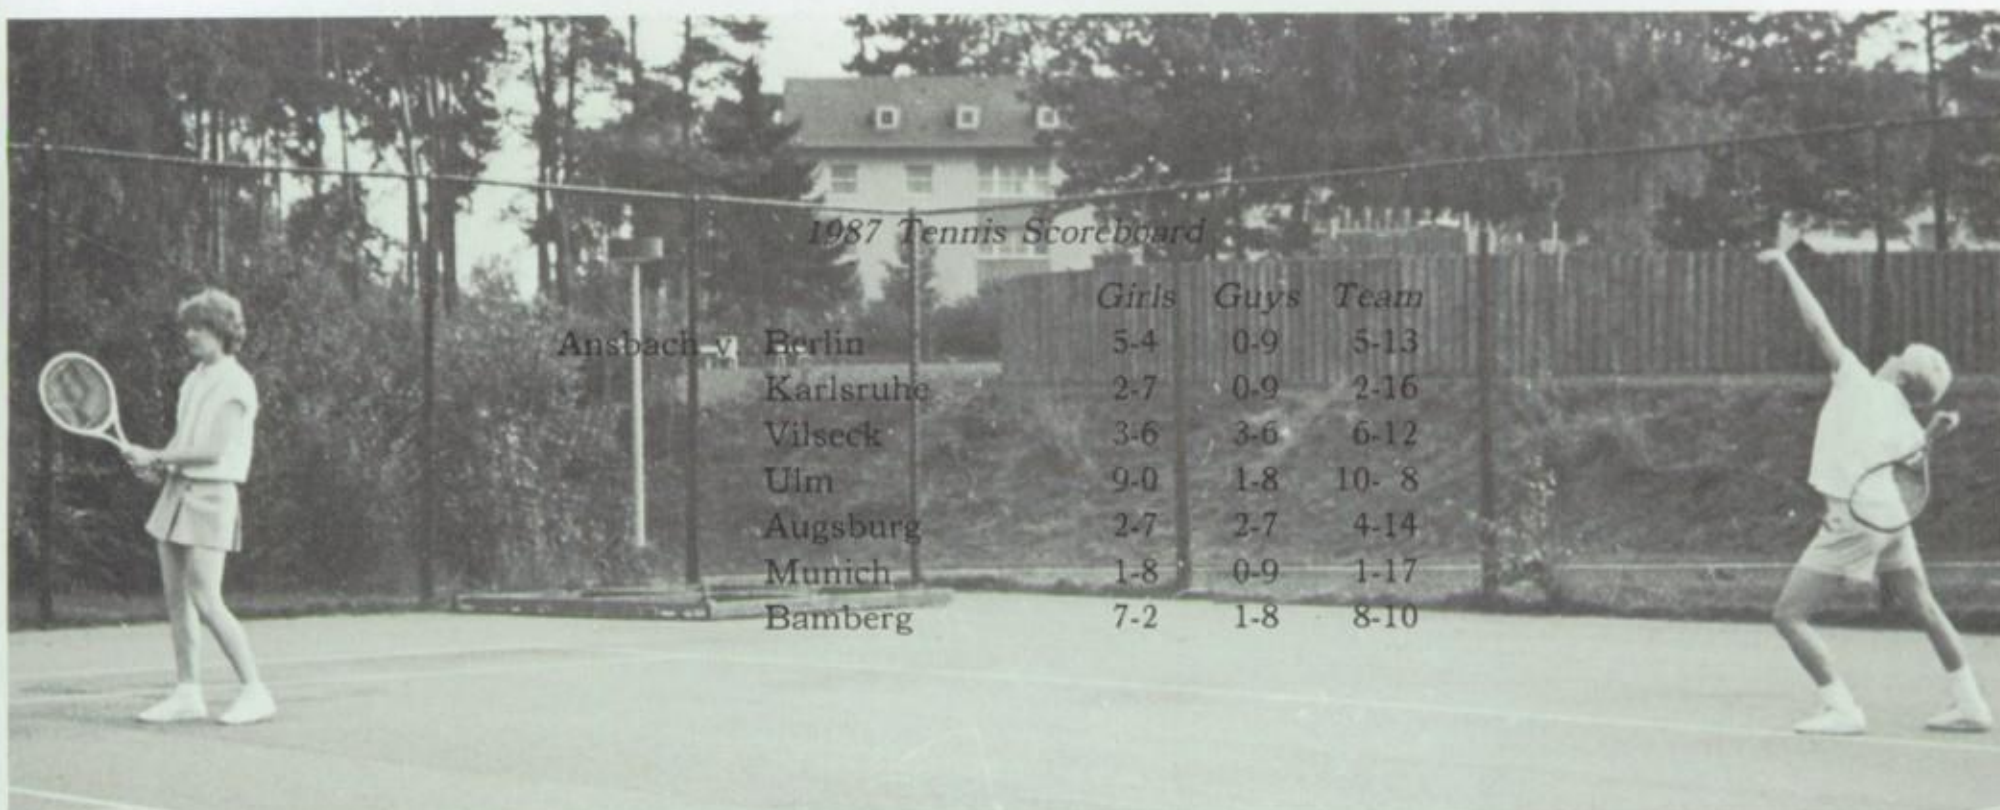

Trent remembered, "I never thought I would make it to finals, let alone place 6th out of approximately 54 other players. It was exciting and I had alot of fun, but some still think I am not serious about tennis, maybe I am and maybe I am not. I guess I will have to wait until next year to find out."

Tennis is becoming a more popular sport among guys and girls and the Cougars should expect to have more progressive seasons in the years to come. Mr. Snart noted, "The girls did their usual fine job of handling their opponents this year as you can see by their record. I am expecting our returning girls to do just as fine a job next year as was done this year."

Danny Bush, Trent Lee, Tanya Snart, Missy Hatten and Lori Dozark traveled to Wiesbaden for Tennis Finals October 21-24, 1987.

THE GOLF TEAM

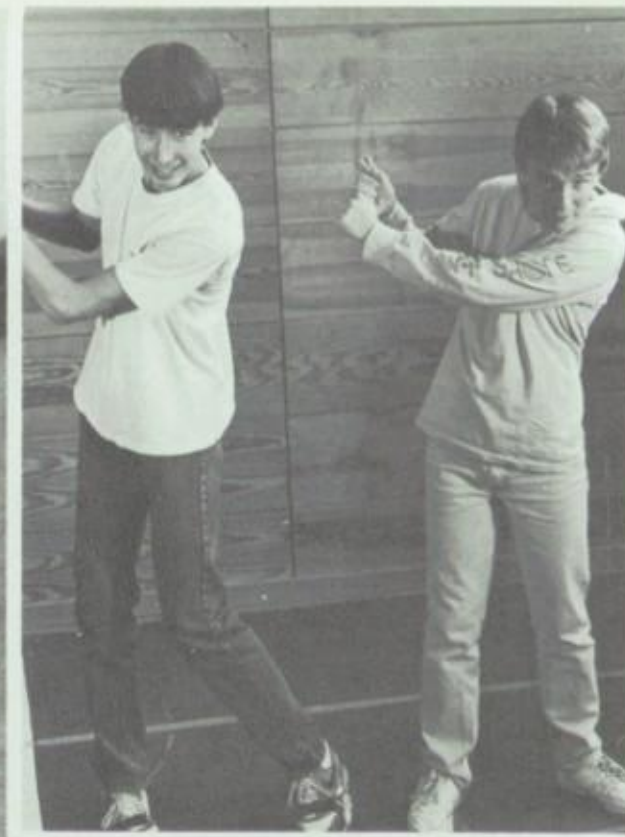

The 1987 Team of Ansbach High consisted of 3 girls and 6 boys which qualified them for team standings. Even though the Golf Team did not fare very well as a team, there were some outstanding individual efforts throughout the season. Two of the boys, Scott Bennett and Steve Jones went to Heidelberg for the Golf Championships which is a two day tournament and consists of about 80 golfers from all over DODDS. Scott tied for 11th place in the Championship Flight while Steve placed 12th in the 2nd Flight.

Each golfer also managed to improve their scores each week which made them feel successful about their season. With this experience under their belts, the Ansbach Golf Team looks forward to a better season next year.

The coach, Mrs. Meier, also had a good year winning the DODDS Women's Championship for the 2nd year in a row while also taking 1st place in the 2nd Flight which consisted of men and women golfers.

ACTIVITIES

9th AJROTC Battalion

The 9th Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (JROTC) has just successfully completed its 5th year of existence at Ansbach American High School.

JROTC is not a recruiting organization, it is a class which teaches the cadets to be good citizens and enhance their leadership ability.

The JROTC Unit provides many after school activities for the cadets such as Drill Team, Rifle team, Color Guard, Sobor Guard, Fancy Drill, and Rangers. All the activities with the exception of Rangers, perform for the community and competes against other JROTC Units in Europe.

In the class room cadets are taught such classes as Leadership Development, Drill and Ceremony, First Aid, Hygiene, Drug and Alcohol abuse, Marksman Ship and Safety, Map Reading, Oral Communications, Military History, and the Judicial System. The subjects varies depending on the LET Level of the cadet.

The JROTC Unit offers many educational Field Trips for the cadets such as, firing of the M-16; touring Berlin, Dachau, Hoff Boarder; visiting the Flight Simulator, an active duty unit; being able to see the different types of Helicopters; and we have guest speakers from all the different Military branches.

I would like to thank all the cadets and SFC (RET) McAdams for making this 87/88 SY such a successful year.

Student Council

Student Council advisor Mr. Shaupp holds meetings once a month. President Attalie Bruce and Vice President Missy Hatten gather and organize the information that is to be discussed at each meeting.

The five commissioners work hard at doing their jobs also. Lori Dozark-Spirit, Heather Langford-Assemblies, Stella Weart-Communications, Kerri Watkins-Finances, and Natalie Montgomery-Student Activities.

Class Presidents and Vice Presidents were chosen to represent their class members. The presidents and vice presidents of each class are as follows:

Senior President: Tammie Melton
Senior Vice Pres: Nathalie Thielen

Junior President: Martin Baker
Junior Vice Pres: Tanya Snart

Sophomore President: Kendra Peters
Sophomore Vice Pres: Melanie Meredith

Freshmen President: Stenitta Ross
Freshmen Vice Pres: Anthony Conzemius

The 1987-1988 Drama Club got off to a good start after performing at the Cub Scout night February 25. By that time, the young thespians were well on their way with preparations for Drama Fest where they performed the one-act play "Adaptation" and numerous solos and duets.

"Dramafest was a really good experience for me and I plan on going again next year if I can." Explained Chevy Chandler who had the lead role in the one-act play.

Chrisanne Eastwood, Ansbach's new drama sponsor took great strides with the drama club by getting a charter membership to the National Thespian Society and drumming up the interest for the spring presentation.

"I hope that 'You Can't Take It With You' goes over as well as past performances have." Stated Ms. Eastwood. "Working with new sparkling talent and renewing interest is exciting. Having the drama class helped out alot as far as getting bodies onto the stage. I just have to remember that it can be just as scary for the young actors and actresses as it was for me."

Varsity Letter Club

To be a member of Ansbach's Varsity Letter Club is a privilege. An athlete must have two Varsity letters or have one Varsity letter and be working on their second to become a member of this elite club. The purpose of the Letter Club is to serve the students, the faculty, the community and ultimately the school as a whole. The Letter Club's activities include: setting up and cleaning up at high school sports events, selling concessions, keeping the book at the games and helping out the coaches in any way possible. This year the Letter Club has quietly helped behind the scenes to make a strong sports program.

Club Beyond, which is sponsored by the community chapel, is a program geared to the needs of Ansbach's teenagers. On a weekly basis there are "club" meetings for jr. highers ("Wildlife") and for sr. highers. These clubs involve games, skits, and a talk by one of the leaders, or perhaps a discussion by the whole group about some of the key issues in a teenagers life.

For those who become more interested or involved, there are also small group meetings during the week ("Campaigners"), and trips. Club Beyond loves trips! Ski trips, Spain, Chiemsee, biking, you name it. But whether its a trip, a small group, or a club, all of Club Beyond's activities are meant to create an atmosphere of fun and belonging, and to examine who Jesus Christ is and how knowing him can effect our lives.

Student lifestyles, people, clubs and activities, sports and advertisements are all important areas which contribute to the story of the 1987-1988 school year. Our yearbook, The Onoldia, describes for students, faculty and future generations most of what we have done this year. It took a lot of hard work and dedication from the members of the yearbook staff, but now we can say that "we pulled it off."

Highlights of special moments appear throughout the book and pictorialize our growth both socially and physically. Look closely at each page. Headlines, articles and pictures tell our story with dividers marking our vast involvements.

During this year's progression and in the years to come, there will be times when we would like to stop the clock of time to hold a moment forever or prevent a tragic event from happening. We must remember, though, that letting go of these moments allows us to grow and mature. Our yearbook, however, will hold some of our most precious memories and tender moments forever.

Paw Prints

The Ansbach High School Newspaper staff, Paw Prints, is sponsored by Mrs. Pienta. This is Mrs. Pienta's first year working on this newspaper, and also this year's staff is brand new. But, it looks like they've been off to a good start!

Mrs. Pienta's journalism class doesn't hold regular, everyday meetings, her staff comes to her on their own time, to help write articles, for their newspaper. They also, have deadlines to meet every two weeks, to make sure the newspaper is in perfect shape to print.

The Paw Prints newspaper comes out weekly in the Community Bridge, free, and Ansbach students can pick them up in the library.

A new item in this years paper was "Dear Paw-la." It was a great idea! Instead of involving the whole school with your personal problems, the box was kept in the library and your problems were kept confidential. All the solutions to your problems were printed in the newspaper.

The 4th Annual Club Beyond Powder Puff play-offs was held on November 11th at our own Ansbach American High School. The turnout at the games was great. The crowd was positive that Ansbach was the best team and it showed; not only in the crowd but also in the players.

The team was led by two seniors, Lori Dozark, offensive captain and Tammie Melton, defensive captain. The offensive line coaches were, Mike Novak and Bryan Cherrie. The defensive coaches were Alan Guffey and Greg Davis. Martin Redman was our offensive coordinator and Chuck Rivenburgh was our offensive motivator.

The first game started with a crowd roaring as Ansbach stomped Heidelberg, 16-8. Scorers were Lori Dozark, Brenda Jones, and Tara Kingsley.

Through the next game the excitement was high and the scores were close. But in the end the best team came out the winner with Ansbach defeating Nurnberg, 10-8. Tammie Melton and Kendra Peters stood out defensively, both intercepted for two first downs. Lori Dozark scored the only touchdown and extra point conversion of the game.

We played a great game against Frankfurt but we unfortunately suffered our first defeat with a score of 9-5. Points scored due to first downs were scored by Quarterback, Lori Dozark.

Ansbach played in the Powdered Sugar Bowl against Augsburg. Lori Dozark suffered a broken collar bone during play and the girls played extra hard to take the title for her. As the game came to a close, Augsburg came out on top with Ansbach taking second place.

When the awards were given out to the Ansbach powderpuff team, they dedicated the second place trophy to Lori Dozark.

National Honor Society

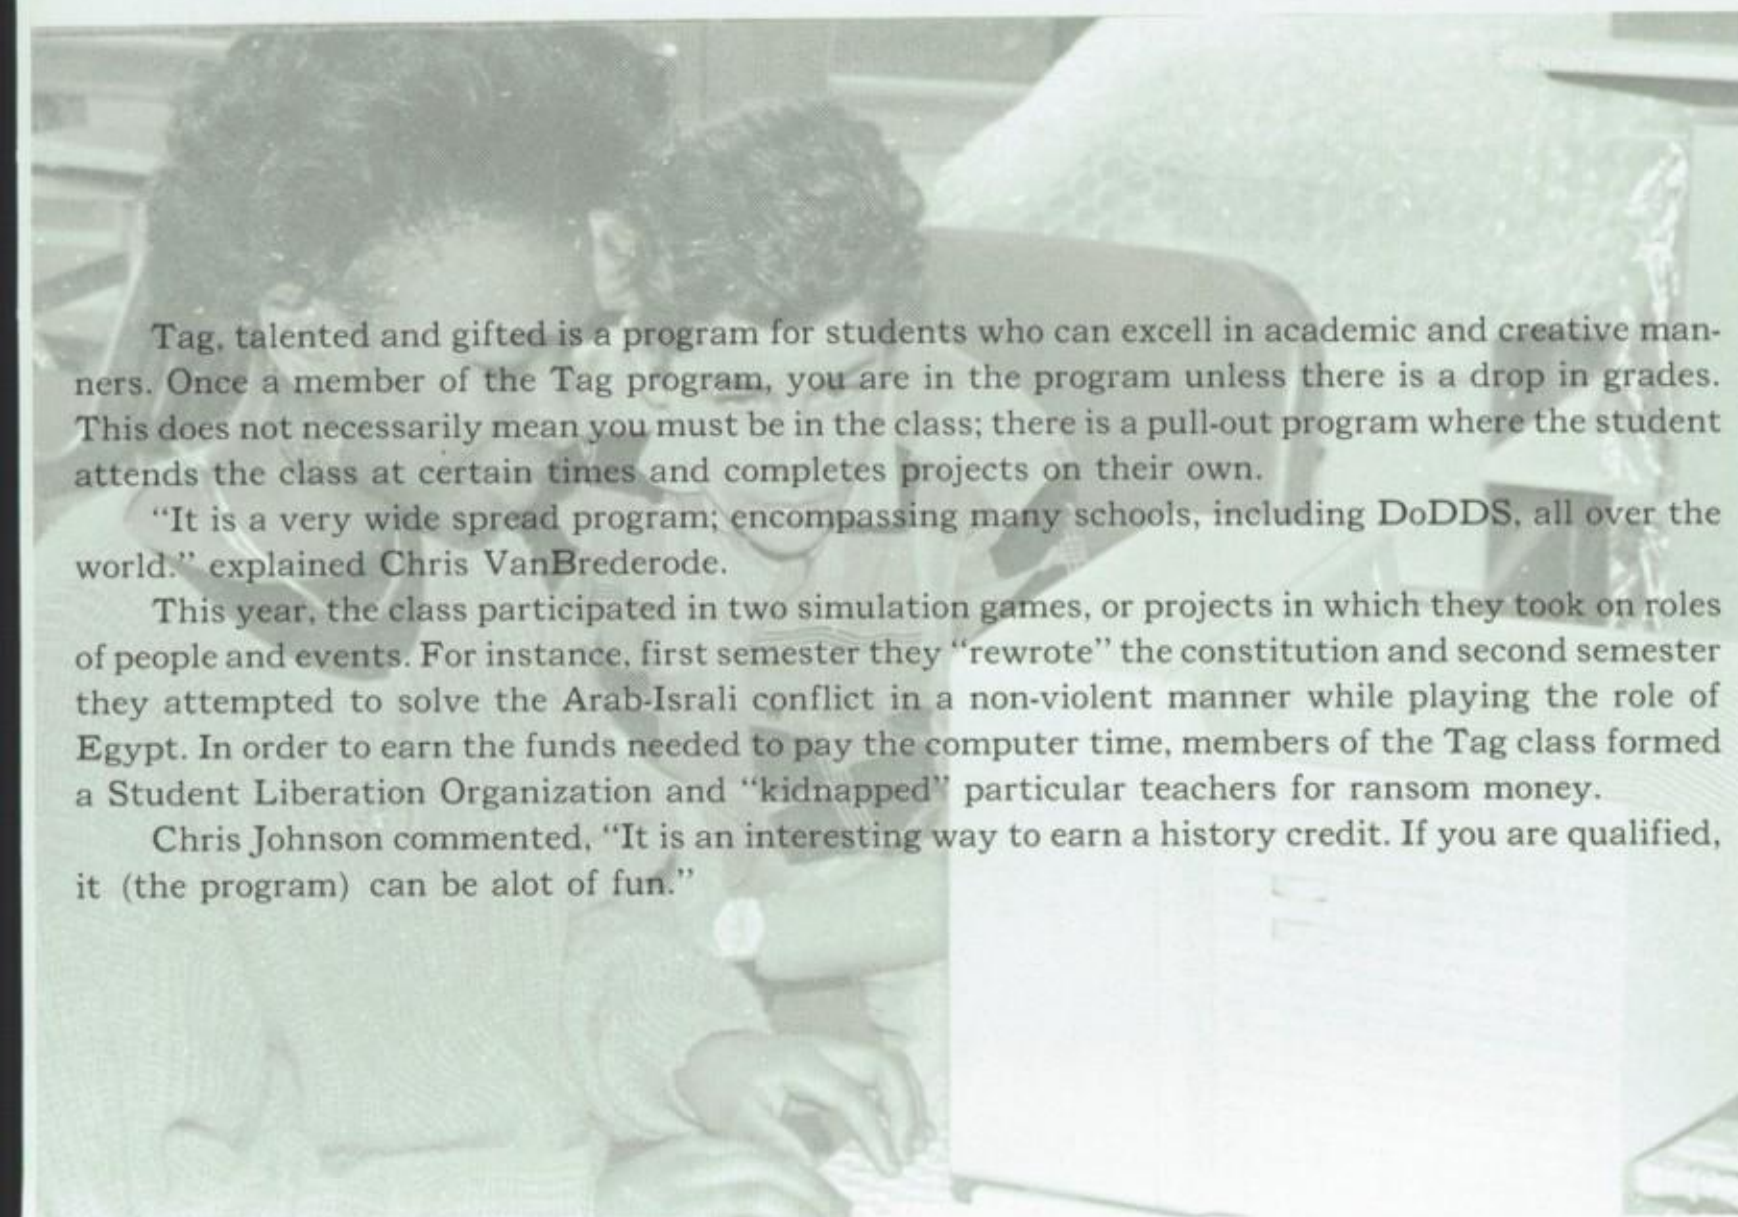

Cooperation with those you work with, leadership through serving others, knowledge and knowing how to find it, talent, and ambition to excell to your highest potential are only a few of the many qualities found in National Honor Society members.

Society members were chosen at the end of the 1986-1987 school year on the initial basis of grade point average. Of course, NHS membership is not based solely on an individual's academic skills, but also on their leadership abilities, service, and general character qualities including honesty, responsibility, tolerance, courtesy and cooperation. Because of this, not all of the initial student applicants were inducted the first time around.

The members inducted into the National Honor Society at the end of the 1986-1987 school year were: Tammie Melton, Jeff Schneider, Missy Hatten, Lisa McAdoo, Kristen Schanthal, Martin Baker, Stella Weart, Nathalie Theilen and Theresa Dailey.

Previous Honor Society members who conducted the induction were: Mike Gloss, Donna Nicosia, Jennifer Schneider, and Lori Dozark.

TAG

Tag, talented and gifted is a program for students who can excel in academic and creative manners. Once a member of the Tag program, you are in the program unless there is a drop in grades. This does not necessarily mean you must be in the class; there is a pull-out program where the student attends the class at certain times and completes projects on their own.

"It is a very wide spread program; encompassing many schools, including DoDDS, all over the world," explained Chris VanBrederode.

This year, the class participated in two simulation games, or projects in which they took on roles of people and events. For instance, first semester they "rewrote" the constitution and second semester they attempted to solve the Arab-Israeli conflict in a non-violent manner while playing the role of Egypt. In order to earn the funds needed to pay the computer time, members of the Tag class formed a Student Liberation Organization and "kidnapped" particular teachers for ransom money.

Chris Johnson commented, "It is an interesting way to earn a history credit. If you are qualified, it (the program) can be a lot of fun."

BAND!!

The 1987-1988 school year saw a big growth and interest in the band at Ansbach High School. Under the new director, Dick Barker, the band made considerable improvement in the number of concerts, the number of students and in the difficulty of music played. The Advanced Band performed more than ten times at concerts, pep rallies and basketball games. The Intermediate Band played in three concerts during the year. Finally this year saw the start of The Ansbach High Jazz Band, which performed several times in the spring.

VFW Voice of Democracy

1st Place Winner: Donna Nicosia

Finalists: Tammy Melton and Jolene Roberts

Any 10th, 11th, or 12th grade student in public, parochial, or private school in the United States and overseas is eligible to compete in the annual Voice of Democracy contest. This competition is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign War and the Ladies Auxiliary. Participants are judged on their interpretation of a particular theme. The individual prepares a three to five minute speech on a cassette tape. Following school competition, the recorded talk of the school winner is submitted to the next higher level of competition. If the participant wins on this level, he/she goes to Washington, D.C., to recite the speech in front of the President of the United States.

This year's theme was "America's Liberty - Our Heritage". The three Ansbach High School students who participated were: Donna Nicosia, 1st place winner; Jolene Roberts, 2nd place winner; and Tammy Melton, 3rd place winner. Their speeches were judged based on delivery, originality, and content. Donna went on to compete in the District competition and won 2nd place. Congratulations to all participants for your outstanding efforts!

Cougar Broadcasting Network

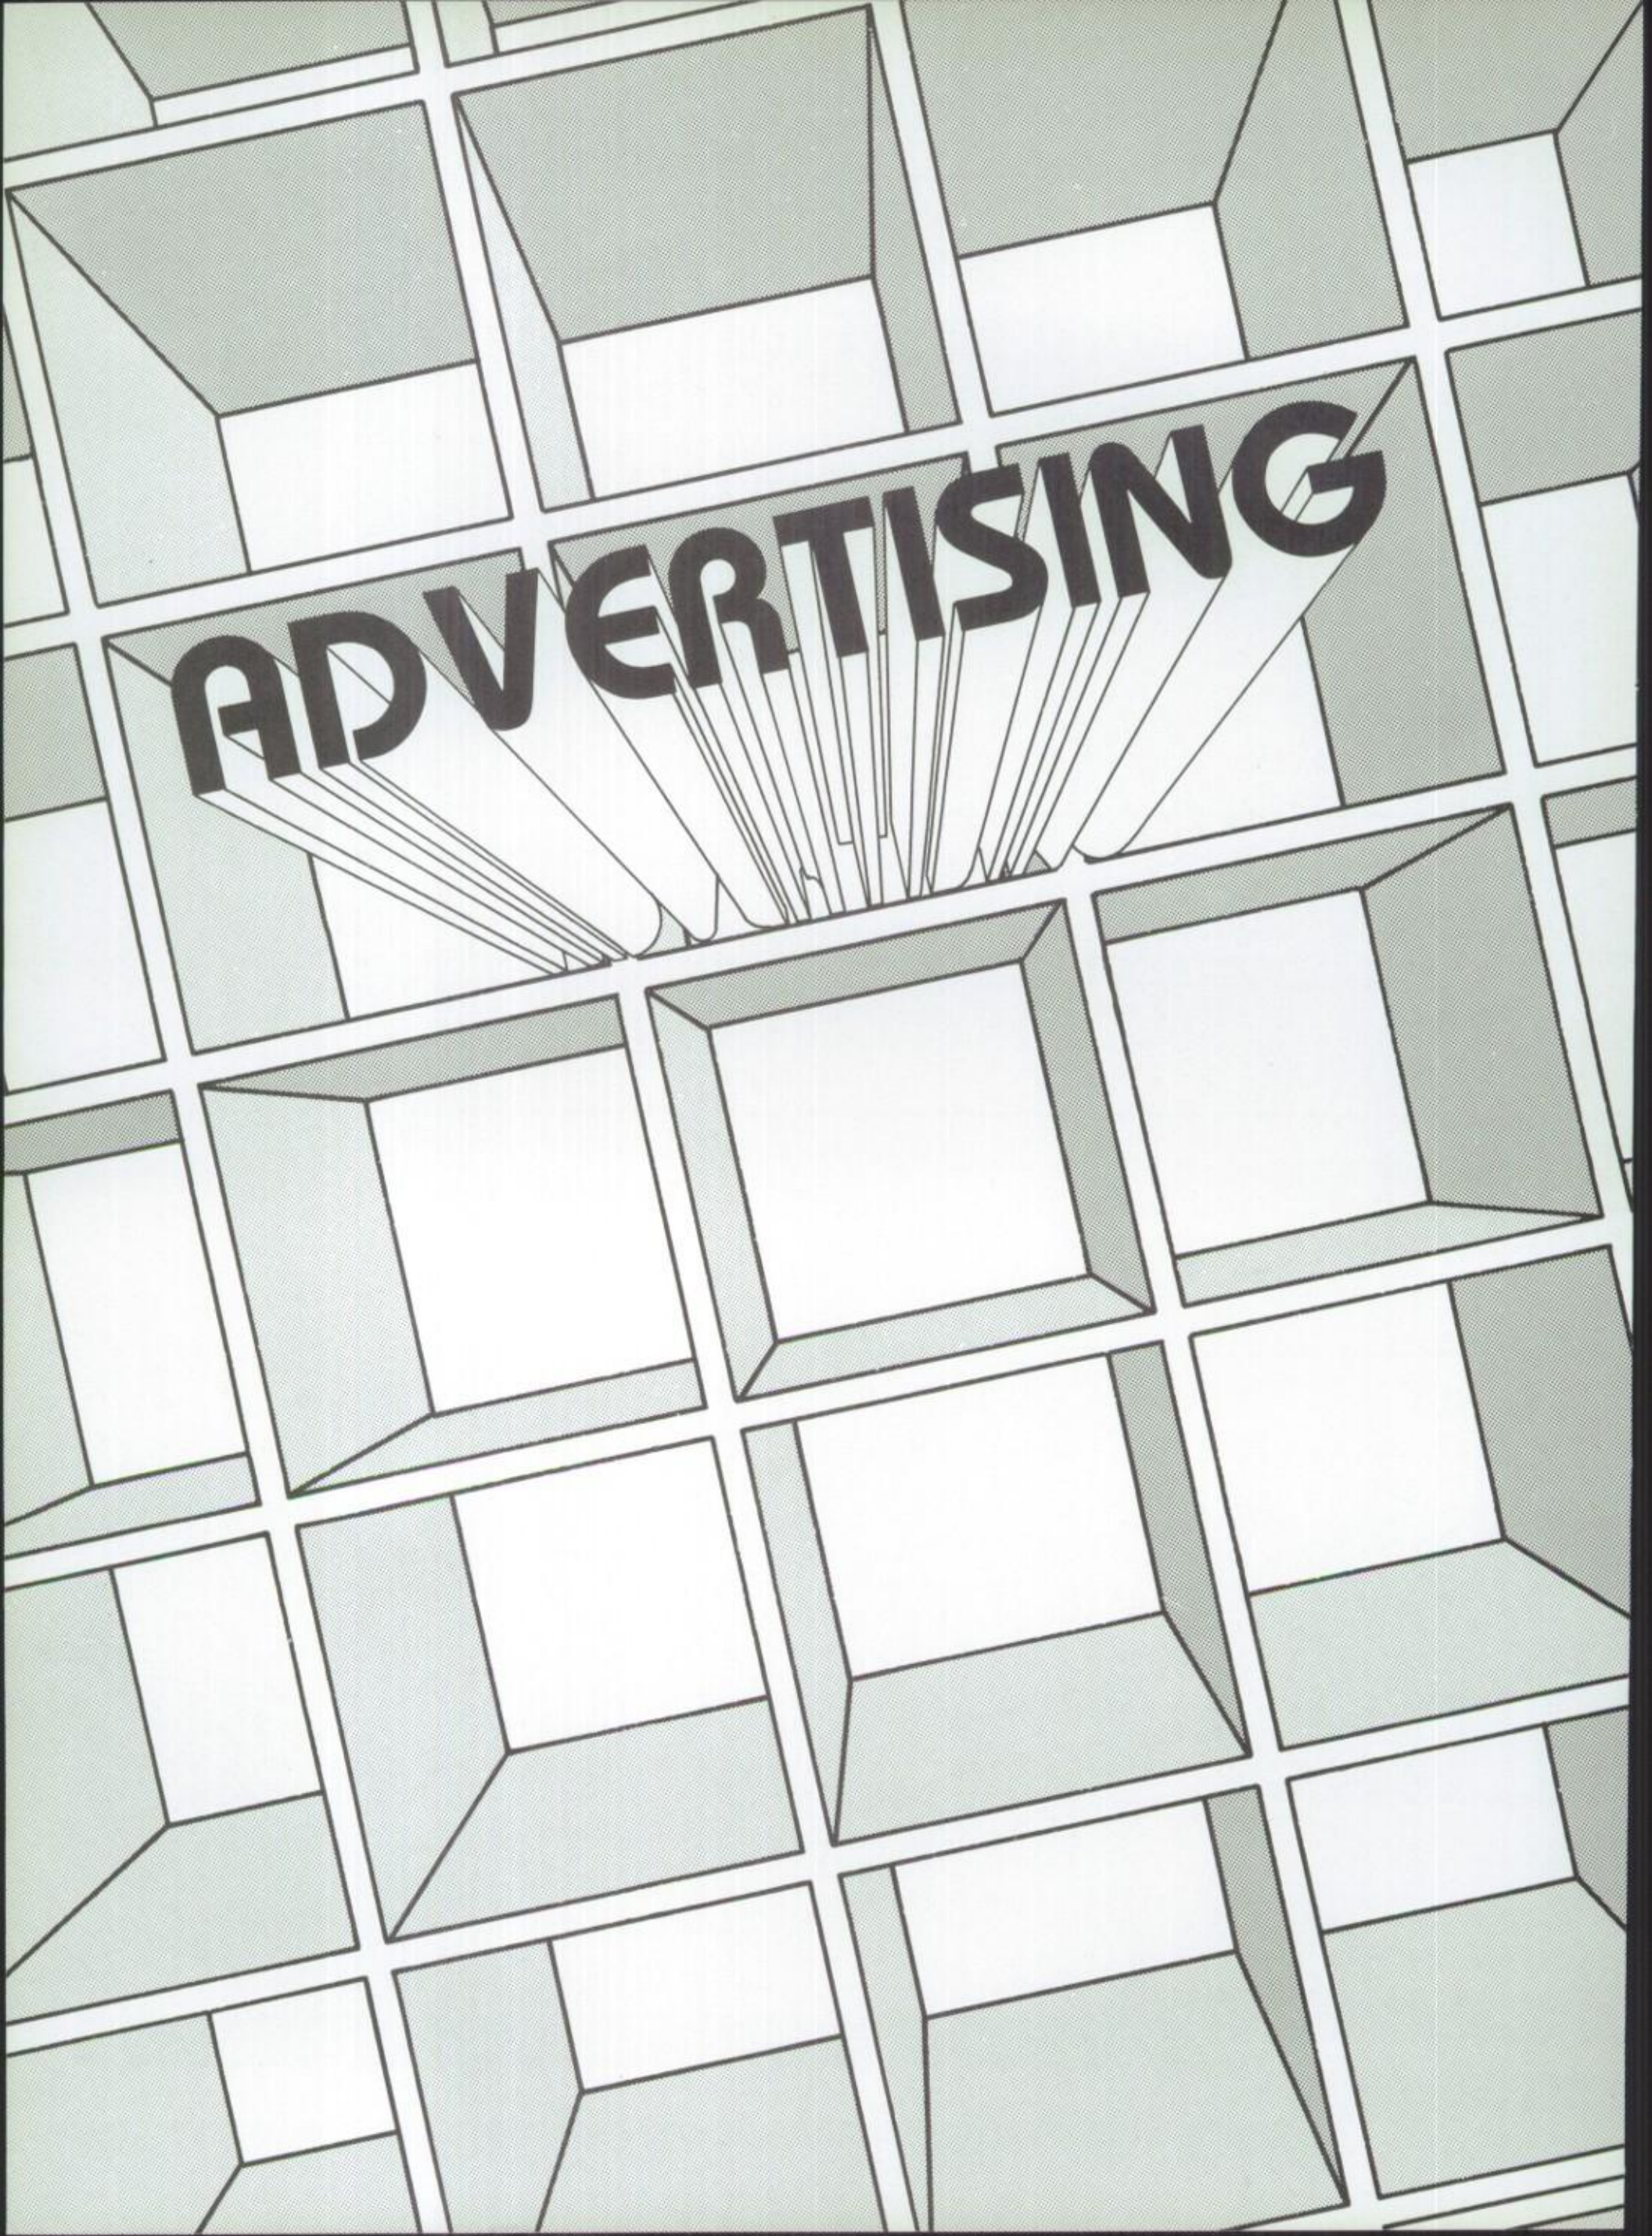

Cougar Broadcasting Network consisting of: Denise Clark, Tammie Melton, Jenny Watkins, Natalie Montgomery, Missy Hatten, and Michelle Elia.

Being the first year for anything like the Cougar Broadcasting Network at Ansbach High School, the announcement team had a lot to work with. CBN aired everything from birthday greetings to detention recipients, amused the students in the morning with hit tunes and extended song dedications over the air waves. Ms. Eastwood, head producer commented: "It is new and interesting, and I think it is good for the students."

"The difference in social studies knowledge between American high school students living in Europe and those living in the continental United States."

Due to personal experience and findings from professional studies, We believed that American students living in Europe have learned more about social studies and can retain it more than those American students living in the United States. Two schools participated in our study: Ansbach American High School represented the students living in Europe, and a high school in Aledo, Illinois represented the students living in the United States. The students at each school were surveyed in the following categories: American and World History, American and World Newsmakers, and American and World Geography. The students from Aledo scored 7.7% higher overall than the students from Ansbach, but Ansbach students scored higher in World affairs and personalities. There is really no significant difference because different schools have varied class study outlines.

The background is a complex geometric pattern. It features a grid of squares, some of which are shaded in a light gray tone. Overlaid on this grid are numerous perspective lines that create a three-dimensional effect, making the squares appear to float or recede into the distance. The word "ADVERTISING" is printed in a bold, black, sans-serif font, positioned diagonally across the upper portion of the image. The text is slightly offset from the grid lines, giving it a sense of being placed on top of the geometric structure.

No Rules Can Limit the Heart

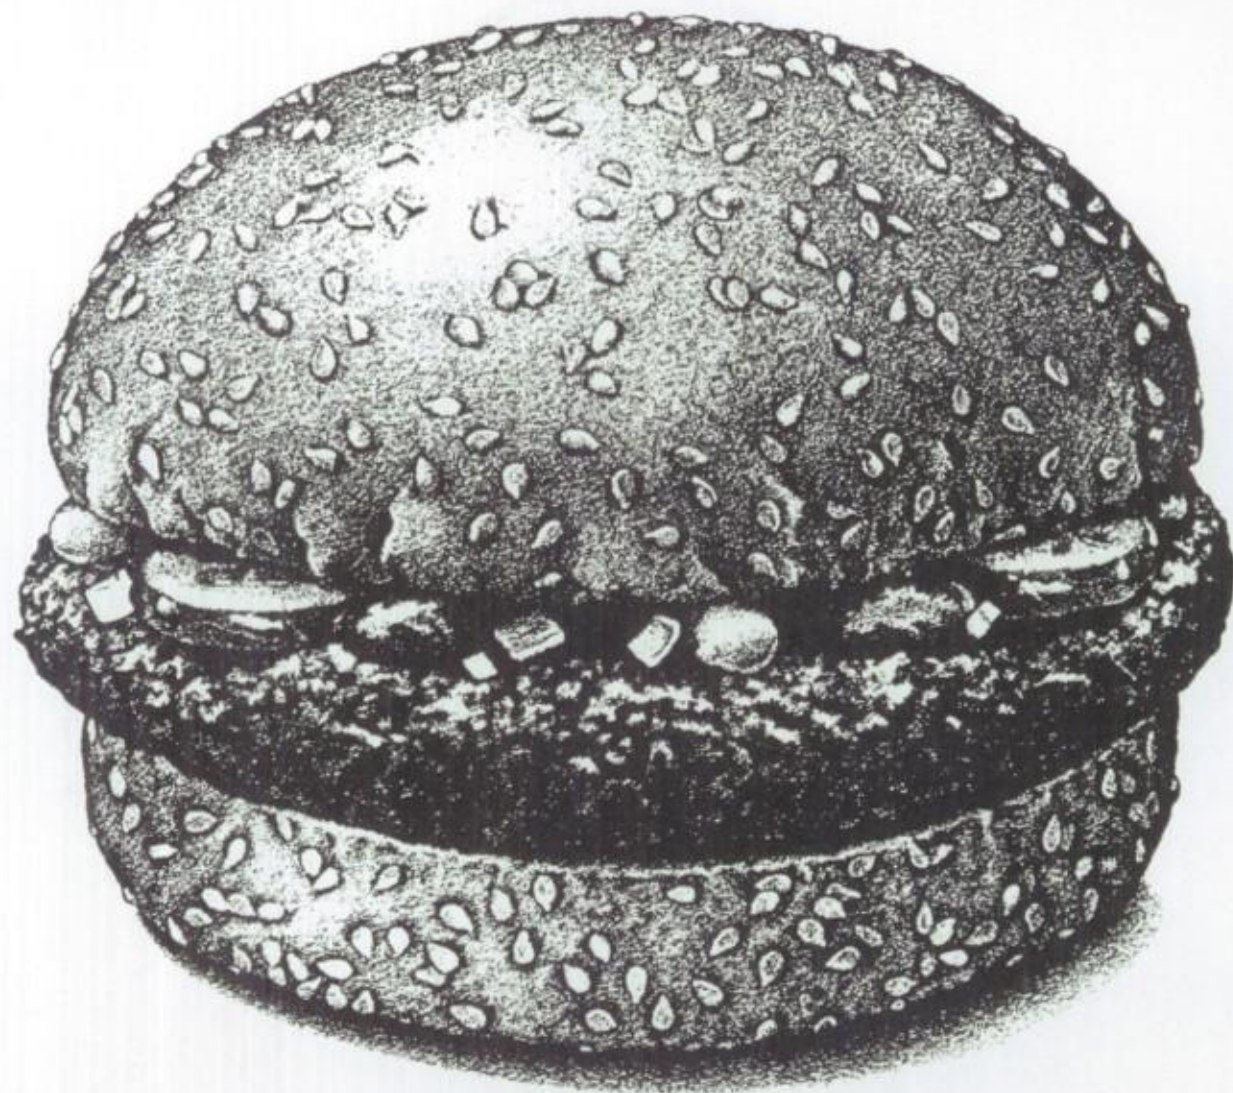

*No rules can limit the heart of one who dreams.
There are no barriers that can prevent the soul,
The free spirit within, from soaring above all Earthly criticisms. For the world created within One's heart, one's mind, soul, and spirit is as Tangible as the wind. It is not definite. It Cannot be touched or felt by the palm of one's Hand or the tip of one's finger, but by the heart
And the mind. Only few know of this world, for Only few possess the miracle of innocence. They Have managed to preserve a magic in the world
Known only to a child. As long as one can dream,
One can escape. For as long as one can look
At a field of trees and see endless images of age
And wisdom, he too can find solace and refuge in His special world. No one can read your thoughts,
But the creator of the world you escape to.
Reaching it is soaring to the highest cloud and Circling the brightest star. You need not wings
To soar for your wings are your heart and your mind.
The pinks and blues that play across the sky are
Your paths, and your door . . . to the heavens.*

Now the time has come for the parting,
and the struggle to the top is done.
The twelve years has come to an end,
and the battle has been won.

We started out to graduate,
just to finish our high school days,
and although it is over,
the memories will never fade.

As we each strive to fulfill our dreams,
while going our separate ways, we'll "hold on" to the memories of those "good ol' high school days".

Diana,
My girl,
It's been a
